Bible Verse

Proverbs 31:28 (NIV)

"Her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her."

Creative Ways to Memorize

1. Rhyme:

- Make a simple rhyme to help them remember:

- "Her children arise and say she's the best,
Her husband joins in, calling her blessed."

2. Song:

- Create a simple tune using a familiar melody, like "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star":

- "Her children rise and call her blessed,
Her husband too says she's the best,
Proverbs 31:28,
Mothers always celebrate!
Her children rise and call her blessed,
Her husband too says she's the best."

3. Motions:

- Introduce hand motions for each part of the verse:

- "Her children arise" (stand up and raise hands high),
- "and call her blessed" (cup hands around mouth),
- "her husband also" (point to an imaginary person),
- "and he praises her" (clap hands together).

4. Memory Challenge:

- Use a repetitive line challenge where each student says one word in the verse in turns and the group repeats after each complete run.
- For added fun, see how fast or silly the students can say it as they gain confidence with the words.

Through engaging activities like these, children can connect with the message and have a delightful time learning about the importance of honoring and appreciating mothers.
