

Takehome

Take-Home Assignment: Reflecting on Deuteronomy 30

Overview:

Deuteronomy 30 teaches us about choices, love, and promises from God. It reminds us that we have the power to choose between life and death, good and evil, and blessings and curses. Let's explore this chapter and its messages through a fun family activity and some thoughtful questions.

Activity: Family Discussion and "Choice Chart"

Materials Needed:

- A sheet of paper
- Coloring pencils or crayons
- A ruler (optional)

Instructions:

1. Read Together: Gather with your family and read Deuteronomy 30 aloud. You can read a few verses each.
2. Create a "Choice Chart": Draw two columns on a sheet of paper. Label one column "Good Choices" and the other "Not-so-good Choices."
3. Discuss: Talk about the choices mentioned in Deuteronomy 30. Work together with your family to write down examples of what might be considered "Good Choices" (e.g., helping others, being kind) and "Not-so-good Choices" (e.g., being mean, telling lies).
4. Decorate Your Chart: Use your coloring pencils or crayons to make the chart colorful and exciting!

Reflection Questions:

1. Choices Matter: How do the choices you make every day affect you and those around you?
2. Love and Obedience: Why do you think it's important to love God and follow His commands? How can your family practice this each day?
3. Blessings and Responsibility: What are some ways you can bring blessings to others in your life through your actions?

Exercise: A Choice Story

Write a Short Story: Write a story about a character who has to make an important choice. What decision do they make and what are the consequences of their choice? Share your story with your family and see what they think!

Creative Closing:

Take a moment to draw a picture of a choice you made recently that brought joy to someone else. Share your drawing with your family and explain why you made that choice.

Remember, Deuteronomy 30 teaches us that our choices are powerful and can lead to a life full of blessings and joy. Have fun with your family as you learn more about making good choices!