Song Recommendation:

1. "Wherever You Go"
- Lyrics Paraphrase: "Wherever you go, I will follow. I will trust in God today. We will obey His word, together we'll stay. In peace and unity, led by God's way."
- Suggested Actions:
- Marching in place during "Wherever you go"
- Pointing upwards during "I will trust in God"
- Holding hands in a circle with "together we'll stay"
- Connection to Lesson: This song emphasizes unity and following God's guidance, aligning with the theme in Joshua 22 where the tribes work together to trust and obey God's commands.

Worship Activity:

1. "Building an Altar of Praise"
- Activity Description: Create a simple altar using craft materials like colored paper, stones, or boxes.
- Actions:
- Children can write or draw prayers and praises on each piece of altar material, focusing on themes of unity and peace.
- Assemble the altar while discussing the importance of remembering and honoring God's promises, similar to the altar built by the tribes in Joshua 22.
- Connection to Lesson: This activity reinforces the importance of building altars as reminders of God’s faithfulness and encourages students to express gratitude and unity just as the Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of Manasseh did.

Interactive Discussion:

- "Peaceful Solutions"
- Discussion Points: After singing and the activity, discuss how the tribes in Joshua 22 resolved misunderstandings peacefully.
- Suggested Questions:
- What can we learn from the tribes about resolving conflicts?
- How can we make peace with friends and classmates?
- How did building the altar help remind the tribes of their commitment to God?
- Connection to Lesson: Explores the importance of communication and understanding in resolving conflicts, reflecting the resolution seen in the story.

These activities are designed to help students understand the importance of peace, unity, and trusting God, as depicted in Joshua 22.
