Visuals and Illustrations for Judges 20 Lesson

1. Map of Tribes of Israel
- Caption: The twelve tribes of Israel with highlights on Benjamin and surrounding tribes.
- Description: Create a colorful map with clear labels for each tribe. Highlight the tribe of Benjamin where the conflict in Judges 20 occurs. Use different colors to differentiate between tribes.

2. Storyboard of Key Events
- Caption: The Conflict in Gibeah
- Description: Divide a board or sheet into 4-6 panels. In each panel, draw simple stick figures or cartoon-style illustrations depicting key moments: the gathering of the Israelites, the battle preparations, the battles themselves, and the resolution. Include brief captions under each panel.

3. Character Profiles
- Caption: Key Figures in the Story
- Description: Use simple drawings or graphics to create profiles showing the Israelites, the Benjamites, and specific characters like the Levite or leaders. Include a few sentences about their roles in the story beneath each profile.

4. Simple Battle Diagram
- Caption: The Battle Strategy
- Description: Illustrate the battlefield layout with simple icons representing Israelite and Benjamite forces. Use arrows to show movement and positioning as described in the text. Keep the diagram uncomplicated and easy to follow.

5. Emotional Scene Depictions
- Caption: Reactions of the Israelites
- Description: Produce illustrations of emotions displayed by characters in the story, like anger, sadness, and relief. For example, draw a scene showing Israelites in grief and contemplation after battles.
