Activity 1: Role Play Skit

Instructions:
1. Divide the students into groups of five.
2. Each group will perform a short skit based on 1 Kings 21.
3. Assign roles: Narrator, King Ahab, Queen Jezebel, Naboth, and Elijah.

Roles:
- Narrator: Guides the story and reads the scripture excerpts aloud.
- King Ahab: Acts out Ahab's desire for Naboth's vineyard and interaction with Jezebel.
- Queen Jezebel: Conveys Jezebel's plan to acquire the vineyard.
- Naboth: Portrays Naboth's refusal to sell his vineyard.
- Elijah: Addresses King Ahab about his wrongdoing.

Discussion Prompts:
- How did each character feel at different points in the story?
- What could Ahab have done differently?
- How can we make fair choices in our own lives?

Participation:
Each student should act out their role and contribute to the discussion by sharing what they learned from their character's perspective.

Activity 2: Vineyard Values Craft

Instructions:
1. Provide each group with construction paper, markers, and stickers.
2. Ask them to design a "Vineyard Values" poster highlighting the lessons from the story.

Roles:
- Designer: Draw or write the title and main theme.
- Illustrator: Create visual representations of the key events.
- Writer: Document group ideas on values learned.
- Presenter: Share the poster and explain the group's thoughts.

Discussion Prompts:
- What values can we learn from Naboth's steadfastness?
- How did greed affect the story?
- Why is it important to stand firm in our values?

Participation:
Each group member contributes by fulfilling their assigned role and sharing insights during the presentation.

Activity 3: Mystery Verse Hunt

Instructions:
1. Hide several verse cards (related to 1 Kings 21) around the room.
2. Provide clues for finding the verses and solving the mystery of the story's important messages.

Roles:
- Detective Leader: Organizes the search and reads clues aloud.
- Clue Collector: Finds the cards and keeps them safe.
- Verse Reader: Reads each discovered verse to the group.
- Note Taker: Writes down what each verse teaches.

Discussion Prompts:
- What do these verses tell us about right and wrong?
- How do these messages relate to how we treat others?
- Which verse did you find most important and why?

Participation:
Each student takes turns in roles to ensure everyone gets the opportunity to engage in the hunt and discussion actively.
