Recommended Song: "Our God is Generous"

Song Paraphrase:
Verse:
Our God gives us all we need,
He wants us to live and share in peace.
King Ahab wanted more and more,
But God teaches contentment is the cure.

Chorus:
Let's be fair, let's be kind,
Share with others and we'll find,
God's love in every part,
With contentment in our heart.

Bridge:
Naboth's vineyard was God's gift,
But King Ahab had a rift.
We can learn from this today,
To be thankful every day.

Suggested Actions:
- Encourage students to hold their hands out in a sharing gesture during the chorus to symbolize giving and contentment.
- During the bridge, students can act out a simple tug-of-war scene to demonstrate the conflict over Naboth’s vineyard, followed by a handshake to symbolize peace and resolution.

Connection to Lesson:
- This song ties into the story of 1 Kings 21, where King Ahab desires Naboth's vineyard, illustrating themes of greed and injustice.
- Emphasizes God's teachings on contentment and fairness, encouraging students to understand the importance of sharing and gratitude.
- Reinforces the moral that wanting more than we need can lead to trouble and that respecting others' rights and gifts is how we show godliness.

Suggested Worship Activity: "Sharing Circle"

Activity Instructions:
1. Begin by reading the story of 1 Kings 21 with the students, focusing on key points such as Naboth's refusal, Ahab's greed, and the eventual consequences.
2. Have students sit in a circle and think about something they are grateful for—this could be a toy, a family member, or a simple joy like sunshine.
3. Each student takes a turn to share what they're grateful for and one way they can share or act kindly towards others in their lives.
4. Encourage students to discuss how they feel when they share and when they see others being fair and just.

Connection to Lesson:
- Helps students personalize the lesson by thinking about their own lives and recognizing areas where they can show contentment and generosity.
- Reinforces the idea that everyone's feelings and possessions are valuable and should be respected, drawing parallels to Naboth's refusal to give up his vineyard for something he cherished.
- Encourages empathy and understanding of fairness, aligning with the story's moral teaching.
