Take-Home Assignment: Learning from Acts 5

Theme: Sharing and Being Honest

Story Overview:
In Acts 5, we learn about two people named Ananias and Sapphira. They wanted to look like they were sharing everything with others, but they didn't tell the whole truth. God cares about our hearts and wants us to be honest and generous.

Activity 1: Storytime Reflection

- Parents and Kids: Read the story of Ananias and Sapphira in a children’s Bible or using a storybook version. After reading, discuss how important it is to be honest and share with others.

Reflection Questions:
1. Why do you think Ananias and Sapphira didn't tell the truth?
2. How do you feel when you tell the truth?
3. Can you think of a time when sharing made you happy?

Activity 2: Create a Sharing Box

Materials Needed:
- A small box or container
- Paper and coloring supplies

- Decorate a box together as a “Sharing Box.” Talk about the things you could share with others, like toys, time, or even a kind word. Write or draw these ideas on paper and place them in the box.

Activity 3: Family Honesty Pledge

- Create a Family Pledge: Talk about why being honest is important. Together, make a "Family Honesty Pledge," promising to always speak the truth. Write down this pledge, decorate it, and place it somewhere everyone can see.

Fun Exercise: Truth and Sharing Dance

- Play a favorite song and dance around with your family. Each time the music stops, each person should share one thing they are thankful for or a way they helped someone today.

Wrap-Up:
After completing the activities, gather together to thank God for teaching us the importance of honesty and sharing. Say a short prayer together to ask for help in always telling the truth.

Remember:
Honesty and sharing make our hearts happy!
