Take-Home Assignment: Learning About Acts 5

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Today, we learned about a story from the Bible found in Acts chapter 5. This story teaches us important lessons about honesty and making good choices.

Story Summary:

In our class, we talked about two people named Ananias and Sapphira. They sold a piece of land and decided to give some of the money to help others. But they did not tell the whole truth about how much money they had. The story teaches us that it's important to be honest and tell the truth.

At-Home Activity: Honesty and Kindness

What You Need:

- A small jar or box labeled "Honesty and Kindness Jar"
- Paper and crayons

What to Do:

1. Talk About It:
- Sit together as a family and discuss what it means to be honest.
- Talk about why honesty is important and how it makes us feel when others are honest with us.

2. Draw and Share:
- Have your child draw a picture of a time when they were honest.
- Ask them to describe their drawing and talk about how being honest made them feel.

3. Honesty and Kindness Jar:
- Each time someone in the family tells the truth or does something kind, write it down on a piece of paper.
- Place the paper in the "Honesty and Kindness Jar."
- At the end of the week, take some time as a family to read the notes together.

Questions to Discuss:

1. Why is it important to tell the truth?
2. How do you feel when someone is honest with you?
3. What are some ways we can show kindness to others?

Extra Fun:

Role-Playing: Pretend play can help reinforce lessons. Set up a small role-play where your child can act out a scenario involving telling the truth. This will help them understand the value of honesty in a fun way.

Thank you for helping your child learn about honesty and making good choices, just like we heard in Acts 5!

Reflection:

Take a moment each night this week to reflect on how honesty and kindness made your day better. Share your thoughts with each other.

Have fun learning and spending time together!
